The Penn Quill

William Penn High School

New Castle, Delaware

WILLIAM PENN SCHOOL

This building, erected in 1930, is named after the famous Delaware colonizer who landed here in 1682. The original New Castle High School was the Arsenal on the Green in the heart of this historic town. Our school is definitely a part of New Castle, as New Castle is a part of our school.

This 1959 Penn Quill hopes to reflect the history which surrounds this school.

CHARLES E. SMITH

Perhaps the most renowned face in our school is that of our principal, Charles E. Smith. Friend and advisor to every student and faculty member, Mr. Smith has been associated with William Penn ever since 1928. It was first in the Arsenal Building that he took on the duties of a science and mathematics teacher; then, as the school grew and moved to its present location so Mr. Smith moved from teacher to principal.

Even with his numerous responsibilities as head of our school, he has managed to set aside some time for many civic and community activities. He is a member of the Delaware Association of School Administrators, of which he is a past president, and of the National Education Association and the Delaware State Education Association.

Mr. Moffett, who has been our assistant principal for the past four years, was in October of 1958 transferred to the permanent position of assistant principal of the George Read Junior High School.

JAMES C. MOFFETT, JR.

Parents attend classes

On October 21, 1958, the school held its first PTA meeting. The parents and teachers first convened in the cafeteria for a brief business meeting. There the officers were introduced as follows: Kimber L. Shoop, President; Orville M. Steele, Vice-President; Mrs. Mary Wenner, Secretary; and Mrs. Coraline Lebley, Treasurer. Afterwards the parents were given a schedule which their own son or daughter follows daily and were given the chance to experience a simulated school day. This enabled them not only to meet their children's teachers but also to discuss with them what was to be in store for the coming year.

The class presentation of the amusing and heartwarming play, "Mother Is a Freshman," by Christopher Sergal, won't soon be forgotten in the memories and hearts of its audience.

Under the direction of Miss Skene and Mrs. Cline, the cast gave two excellent performances on the nights of November 21 and 22.

The plot relates the trials of a young college sophomore who is faced with the serious problem of her mother attending the same college as a mere freshman. The results prove to be quite exciting, making the two evenings most enjoyable.

Class History

We, of the Class of 1959, entered our high school years not as strangers to William Penn. The majority of us, having grown up together and with the school, had attended elementary and junior high school here.

Our eagerness rose as we realized that we were soon to be participating in senior high projects and activities. The next four years held promises of fun, enjoyment and excitement.

Our first year was relatively quiet. One main activity, however, was that of the Freshman Frolic which was held in the Carrie Downie Cafeteria. Likewise in the Sophomore year we had one really big event, The Sock Hop. The presidents of those years were Dick Corson and William Rees.

It was actually in our Junior year that activities began to increase. Mr. May guided us throughout the year both financially and spiritually. In the fall of the year we set things off with the sale of fruit cakes for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays; then near Christmas we began the sale of cards and wrappings. This was a big item, and to Carol Reeves and Janice Poteet, our business managers, a big headache. In April of 1958 the class presented and profited by the ticket sales of the Junior play, "You Can't Take It With You." May brought the sale of Mother's Day cakes and with the arrival of June, the end of the school term there rose an anticipation of the coming senior year.

The summer of 1958 passed quickly and it was soon that we were faced with the fact that this was our last year; this year had to be our greatest and we certainly can now all agree that it has been. We had a sizable sum of money in our class, our officers and colors had been chosen, and we were now ready to really start moving. In November was held the Senior Play, "Mother Is A Freshman," which turned out to be a tremendous success. Christmastime brought the annual Christmas semi-formal which proved to be quite a gala affair. There were so many wonderful things to plan and do and keep us busy, such as name cards and the excitement of trading them. Each day brought with it some new adventure and hardly before we realized it, May had arrived. Off we went to Washington, a marvelous trip and an excellent time for all who went. A little peakish and tired we arrived home to start decorations for the prom, a night that will long remain in our hearts and memories. And alas, before we knew it, June had come with graduation.

And so we leave our school, William Penn, not strangers but rather a part of it as it has become a part of us.

Underclassmen

Juniors

The Class of 1960 spent a lucrative and prosperous year under the competent direction of the class advisors, Mr. Maynard Reinbold, Mr. Donald Murtagh, Mr. John Edwards, Mrs. Florence Newton, Mr. Harold Barr, Miss Maudellen Skene, and Mr. Herbert Fox. As business advisor to the class, Mr. John May did his usual fine job.

This year the class officers were Michael Piovoso, president; Benjamin DeBoda, vice-president; and Cathy Hiner, secretary. Phyllis Robinson, with the aid of Mr. May, filled her job as business manager very capably.

Several projects were undertaken to increase the class treasury. The largest of these was the sale of cakes. For Thanksgiving and Christmas the class sold fruit cakes. In March Easter cakes were sold and in May Mother's Day cakes. The Junior class sponsored a dance. The class received the profit from the William Penn pen and pencil machines. The money which has been added to the class treasury from these projects will be used to help pay senior expenses.

Best of luck in everything you do Mike! '60

In Memoriam to . . .

FRANCES ANN WALKER

December 28, 1943—October 29, 1958

Small, dainty, and fair describes a red-haired, fifteen-year-old girl, who just this year was a popular member of the junior class and one of the varsity cheerleaders. Then quite abruptly and unexpectedly her smile was taken from the corridors and her cheers were never again to be heard by the team and spectators. To her class Franny's death meant the loss of a classmate, to the team the loss of one encouraging voice, but to all who knew Franny an even greater loss . . . that of a friend.

Activities

Student Council

This year's Student Council can be proud of its many accomplishments. The members not only have endeavored to bring the students and the faculty of William Penn closer together, but also have made numerous contributions to the school with their time, suggestions, and effort.

Entertainment ranked high in the busy schedule of the Council, such as their sponsoring of the Second Annual Homecoming Dance and the Sock Hop; also the Christmas season was heralded by a Student Council assembly program which featured music from the school's choral and instrumental groups. Unforgettable top was the Faculty-Varsity basketball game, held in February.

But work was by no means slighted with these many social activities. In November the students were asked to bring in wearing apparel for the clothing drive, sponsored by the "Save the Children Federation;" the response was tremendous.

The members of the Student Council sorted and bagged the clothing and presented it on behalf of the students of William Penn. Again this year they raised money to foster a child and again the project proved to be successful. They have truly contributed to the prestige of the school.

Exchange Student

Each year, as you know, William Penn is fortunate in being sent an exchange student from a foreign country; this is through a scholarship program sponsored by the American Field Service which is organized with the sole purpose of giving the student a well-rounded knowledge of life abroad. This year it is our pleasure to have with us from Finland, Heli af Ursin. Heli is living with the C. Skeen family (of which Mrs. Skeen is our school secretary) and is a member of the senior class. Her studies include such subjects as P.O.D., English, U.S. History, typing and shorthand. In Finland, Heli has completed her high school education and will be attending college upon her return; she is considering majoring in English. Heli feels, as does the A.F.S., that living with an American family is the best way to get acquainted with America, its family life, and customs. She feels that her year with us has been a beneficial and broadening experience.

Approximately forty students of the senior class are engaged in the Cooperative Work Experience program. These students attend school in the mornings and work in various businesses during the afternoons. This program provides the students with a chance to obtain experience in the fields for which they are training. The program is divided into three classifications: Office Occupations, Distributive Education, and Diversified Occupations. Mr. Edward W. White is coordinator.

EMMA COCHRAN

A Cappella Choir

This year's choir, for the first time, consists of students from just the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. The total number of members is fifty; it is under the direction of Charles H. Reid, who has done his usual excellent job. This year, among its annual activities such as Christmas caroling and the choir banquet, the choir sang at various churches and programs in the community. Social activities also were important items on the calendar in the planning of the Halloween party and bowling party.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club and Girls' Glee Club are under the direction of Mr. Charles H. Reid. Each meets one period a week for rehearsal. The groups this year participated in the Christmas and Spring Choral Concerts. Profits from these programs were placed in the high school choral fund in order that new music could be purchased.

Organizations

Girls' Glee Club

This year's symphonic band consists of 39 members. Included in its numerous activities were the Christmas and spring concerts and the band trip to Mansfield, Massachusetts, where they spent three days. The money-raising activities for the band were the Talent Show and the Bambo's Cabaret.

The dance band is composed of a group of senior high school band members and has been in existence for about four years. It participated in the Talent Show and this spring provided the music for the annual Bambo's Cabaret.

Penn Quill

We, the editors, wish to give our whole-hearted thanks to all who helped make this annual possible. Although the numerous afternoon and night meetings were often long and tiring, the staff always had time for laughter, and each felt a sense of accomplishment after the work was completed. We also wish to extend our gratitude to Carl Thompson who offered his services when we were unable to obtain our professional photographer.

CO-EDITORS: Judy Wofford, Joe Lagowski.

The theme selected for this year's book has given us the opportunity to take a large variety of pictures. We are proud to say that this is the largest book that has ever been produced in William Penn. This could have been accomplished only with the able assistance of our advisors, Mr. Eugene Bucher and Mr. Louis Trinkaus. We sincerely hope that you will have many enjoyable hours reading this year's Penn Quill.

Group A

NURSING CLASS

The class of the American Red Cross Home Nursing-Care of the Sick and Injured is a part of the 10th grade Home Economics class program. Mrs. Miriam Gray, R.N., school nurse, is authorized by the Delaware Chapter to teach the course.

SPEECH CLUB

The Speech Club under the direction of Mrs. Cline meets the seventh period each Thursday. Members of the club are trained in public speaking. They feel that the club benefits them in such ways as giving them self-confidence and poise when addressing the public.

DRIVER'S EDUCATION

An important school function at William Penn is that of Driver's Education, instructed by Mr. Fisher. In the course of study the basic mechanics and operations of today's modern vehicles are taught as well as actual "behind the wheel" training. At the completion of the course, the student is eligible to obtain his or her license through the Motor Vehicle Department.

TYPING CLUB

The purpose of the typing club is to train high school students for future jobs. Under the direction of Mrs. Ryan, they are taught manners suitable for an office, the attitude to use in the business world, and how to use and repair typewriters.

LIBRARY AIDES

The students in the Library Aides club, under the direction and supervision of Mrs. Katherine Armstrong, are those students who have an interest in library functions. They assist Mrs. Armstrong by performing routine tasks and helpful duties in the library.

STAGECRAFT CLUB

Due to the fine and appreciated job of the Stagecraft Club, many successful programs have been presented in the auditorium of William Penn. Mr. Robert Benson, the director of the group, has worked with the boys in making successes of our three major plays, the Talent Show, and many assemblies.

BASKETBALL TEAM

The basketball team participated in the Blue Hen Conference, which began this year. It proved to give our team stiff competition. Much of the success was caused by Coach Wood, who spent many hours training the team.

One of the highlights of the season was the faculty-varsity game. Members of both the George Read Jr. High and Wiliam Penn faculties participated. Although the faculty gave a good scare to the varsity, the varsity won in the final minute 48-45.

The junior varsity played well and looms as a threat in future years to other high schools.

Wrestling

This year's wrestling team has completed its best season in the three years that it has existed. Captained by Jerry Beaman, the team recorded six wins and two defeats, both defeats going to Tower Hill. Much credit is due to Coach Otis Chapman in creating and each year steadily strengthening the morale of the Wm. Penn boys by emphasizing the significance of high school wrestling. This seems to be the main thought of the boys as proven by this year's record.

Hockey

It was an exciting and active season with many breathtaking moments for Coach Harrison's Hockey Team. Many times throughout the season, the girls were handicapped by a wet field, but the Colonial Maids proved to be the better "mudders." The record for the year shows that this is the best hockey team William Penn has ever had.

It's plain to see that only a few who began school at the Arsenal Building in 1947 remained with the class throughout the entire twelve years. When the top picture was taken, many of us doubted that we would eventually reach the time of graduation—a few didn't; but now that we who have survived look back, those twelve long years seem very short and we have but a picture to bring them back.

Baseball

This year's baseball team's captain was Sylvester May. Although the season could not be called a success the morale stayed constant throughout the season. This year's Wm. Penn track team for the first time was a member of the Blue Hen Conference and as usual was coached by Mr. Wood. The team participated in the Conference dual meets, Peninsula Relays, County Meet, and the Blue Hen Conference meet. Also several track members were invited to compete in the State Meet, held at the University of Delaware. Senior members were Co-Captains Bill Reader and Bill Marvel, Jerry Beaman, Buck Gebhart, Bob Gregg, Eddie King, Carl Thompson, and Tribbett.

GIRLS' LEADER CORPS

The Girls' Leader Corps, under the guidance of Miss Grace Harrison, is a group of girls who are bound together to promote service for the school, to build leadership qualities, and to encourage good sportsmanship. In addition to promoting these goals, the girls strive to earn money for the purchase of new uniforms for the girls' athletic teams, cokes for the football team after games, and the publication of football programs, which they organize themselves. This year the girls have sponsored three Co-Rec Nights, a bake sale, and made five awards to girls outstanding in sports. According to the time spent on each service, each girl receives points which earn her an emblem, letter, and a pin.

SPRING CONCERT

The Spring Concert was given on May 8, by the Wm. Penn High School Band. Ronnie Jones and Eleanor Carpenter, voted Most Musical of the Class of '59, were among the soloists of the evening. The same program which was presented that evening was also given in Mansfield, Massachusetts.

Honor Society

The William Penn chapter of the National Honor Society, sponsored by Mrs. Florence Newton, consists of high school students from the junior and senior classes who have shown outstanding ability in the four qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

On March 18, the Honor Society installed ten new juniors and six new seniors, raising its membership to 24.

The most important events of the year were a bake sale and a pleasure trip to Haskell Laboratories.

FIRST ROW: Vice-President N. Tims, President J. Tribbett, Secretary C. Reeves. SECOND ROW: J. Lagowski, H. Ramsey, C. Rankin, H. af Ursin, D. Iles, C. Saxton, J. Wofford, A. Gooden, F. Hopkins, C. Thompson. THIRD ROW: Mrs. F. Newton, B. Riley, C. Nemes, E. Kiracoff, K. Bradley, P. Robinson, K. Grubb, S. Oliver, M. Piovoso, A. Fitz.

Talent Show

As usual, one of the greatest attractions of the year's activities was the Annual Talent Show, sponsored this year by the William Penn Band Boosters. It was held in the William Penn Auditorium on Saturday, January 24, and it met with spontaneous approval. Some of the headliners of the show were The Three Jays, Eleanor Carpenter, the William Penn Dance Band, The Seven Teens, Carol Ann Nemes, Jim Tribett, Dottie Oliver, Barbara Brown, and Clyde Simpson and Ronnie Jones. Included in the program were various acts from several of the surrounding schools.

Junior Play

"Tish," a hilarious comedy by Alice Chadwick, was presented April 10 and 11 by members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes, Mr. Jack Graybeal did an outstanding job of directing the play.

The entire action of the play took place in the combination lunchroom and lobby of The Eagle Hotel located in a remote section of the Southwest, near the Mexican border. The plot centered around Tish, a middle-aged spinister, and her two humorous cohorts, Aggie and Lizzie, who were constantly trying to keep the impossible Tish out of trouble. All who saw the play had a most enjoyable evening.

Sets and lighting were under the supervision of the Stage Craft Club, guided by Mr. Robert Benson.

Faculty

The proceeds from the Faculty Play, Ten Little Indians, and the Faculty Basketball Game were used for the Student Scholarship Fund. This year's scholarships were presented to Bonnie Arthur, Bill Risley, and Jerry Beaman. Bonnie and Bill each received 300, while Jerry received $200. All the winners plan to go to the University of Delaware in the fall. The scholarship which Jackie Hawkins received last year was renewed for her second year at the Virginia Intermont College.

Class Trip

Senior Prom

This year the Senior Prom was held on June 5, in the cafeteria of the George Read Junior High School. The decorating committee, headed by Janice Whiteley, excellently carried out the theme "Star Dust." Music for the gala occasion was furnished by Chuck Laskin and his band. The class song, "Star Dust," was played by the band as the Prom Queen Marilyn Rankin, and her court, Florita Dalton, Peggy Miles, Kathy Edmondson, and Marea Alexander led the Grand March.
